Instore-Communication:

Success Story Push-To-Talk Communication at expert ElektroLand in Heidenheim

expert SE is an established cooperation in the specialized trade. It specializes in particular in consumer electronics, information technology, telecommunications, entertainment, and household appliances. High-quality products combined with in-depth expertise offer customers a comprehensive and high-quality shopping experience.

With expert ElektroLand Heidenheim, we have another partner for the topic of efficient instore communication. Ms. Danne and her team are very pleased with the technology and have dedicated a few words to us.

peicom: »Ms. Danne and her team in Heidenheim are a flagship store that is committed to an efficient and easy-to-use instore communication. Her experience and her ability to use radio technology effectively have helped us to gain further feedback from the electrical retail industry.

We would also like to thank Mrs. Danne and her team for the honest and positive feedback! We look forward to a successful and cooperative partnership with the head office in Langenhagen and with Ms. Danne in Heidenheim!«

»I would like to give you feedback on our experience with instore communication (radio technology) from peicom GmbH. We are extremely satisfied and would like to share our positive experiences with you.

The introduction of wireless technology has proved to be a great relief in our everyday life. The ability to communicate via radio has enabled us to communicate much more efficiently and successfully than before.

The clear and fast transmission of information has improved our internal processes and led to considerable time savings. In addition, the radio has also strengthened cohesion across departmental boundaries, which was a positive surprise for us.

Thanks to direct communication via radio, we can quickly and easily with colleagues from other departments to clarify questions, request support, or exchange important information. This improved collaboration has contributed to a pleasant working atmosphere and led to more effective completion of our tasks.

We appreciate your expertise and the support you gave us during and after the implementation process, and also afterwards. Overall, we are extremely satisfied with the radio technology and would like to thank you and your team for the provision and the professional deployment of this solution. It has significantly improved our in-store communication and has enabled us to work more productively and efficiently. We look forward to a continued successful collaboration.«
